

international VETERINARIAN

Do you work independently, love challenges, ever wanted to just travel the world through work and are you committed to the humane animal husbandry?

We are seeking our veterinarian colleague for international work in our Company's group dealing with international trade, logistics and agricultural production.

Position provides:

- monitor the animal's sold
- give technology advices to the customers
- perform the necessary veterinary tasks according to the rules of the profession and respect for the animal welfare
- take disease prevention measures (use of vaccinations), prevent the development and spread of epidemics, and if necessary, take disease suppression measures
- monitor the existence of adequate sanitary conditions during animal transport
- regularly inspect the animals, perform the necessary blood tests
- determine the presence and nature of possible diseases and disorders, treat them, cure them with medication
- complete the necessary administration
- inform and advise keepers (keeping, caring, feeding, mating)
- keep in constant contact with the staff working on the site

What we offer:

- we work in a modern working conditions at our sites, our group is – a Dutch-owned company's group – of 700 employers is committed to responsible animal husbandry
- we offer long-term full-time employment
- place of work: International

What we ask:

- independence, mobility
- willingness to work internationally and travel
- you have an appropriate higher education degree, experience is an advantage
- you should be open, good problem-solver, creative, goal-oriented thinking
- experience in using office software
- confident English skills/ You write and speak English fluently

Apply to us!

Are you a perfect candidate? Send your application with your gross wage claim to the kARRIER@hunland.hu e-mail address or call us +36 70 198 5151.

By submitting your application, you automatically consent to the processing of your CV and personal data within the departments of Hunland Company's group. The applications received will be placed in our database, kept in accordance with the legal requirements, not handed over to third parties, and will be deleted after 1 year from receiving unless the applicant provides other way.

BUILD A CAREER AT HUNLAND

www.hunland.com