

A small animal practice, which is specialised in surgery, is looking for a Small Animal Surgeon. The small animal practice was built a couple of years ago, is modern, and very well equipped (e.g. CT, MRI, and endoscopy). There are two operating theatres. Because of the good organisation, the surgeons are able to see and operate a high number of patients on a daily basis.

As it has no clinic status, there are no nightshifts.

One of its striking features is the familiar atmosphere between the staff members.

It is located near the city of Coburg. Coburg is located in the North of Bavaria.

Small Animal Surgeon

Your responsibilities

- you are part of a team of 3 veterinarians and 5 veterinary nurses
- your main assignment is surgery (soft tissue, bone surgery, endoscopy)
- when you are not familiar with a certain operation procedure you are eager to learn new skills
- you are welcomed to help with the consultation hours
- you are welcomed to work Saturdays (consultation hour in the morning)
- you take care of your own patients throughout the whole treatment process

The requirements

- You have studied veterinary medicine and are specialised in Small Animal Surgery
- You have worked a couple of years as a small animal surgeon
- You like to work hard and you especially like complex cases
- You are familiar with diagnostic imaging procedures
- You are able to communicate in German or you are motivated to learn German short term respectively

What we offer

- You can work mainly in your specialised field (surgery)
- The small animal practice will support you taking part in continuing education programs
- You are able to become a regional specialist "Fachtierarzt für Kleintierchirurgie"
- You don't have to work nightshifts
- Familiar atmosphere
- If you like you are also able to work part time

For further information, please contact Dr. Isabell Oran or Dr. Felix von Hardenberg. You can reach them at +49 8178 9986410.

Please send your application to the following e-mail address: application@hardenberg-consulting.com quoting the reference number 2179411 per E-Mail at bewerbung@hardenberg-consulting.com.

www.hardenberg-consulting.com

Stellenangebot / Job offer 2179411