

Vetjobs24 - the international job portal for veterinarians!

Vetjobs24.com is an international, neutral career platform where only veterinarians meet. The focus on veterinary medicine makes it possible to identify professional development opportunities for every veterinary colleague. Whether generalist, young professional, expert or senior top manager. We are specialized and focused on the one hand - and limitlessly broad on the other. As an employee, you will find a wide range of opportunities here when looking for a suitable position - wherever veterinarians are employed. Discover the variety of career opportunities you have as a veterinarian. Design your individual applicant profile, apply actively or let us speak to you! The use of the job portal is free of charge for employees.

Vetjobs24 is an initiative of Hardenberg Consulting GmbH. The veterinary team at Hardenberg Consulting fills positions for veterinarians in practices and clinics, in the animal health industry and in the public veterinary sector across Europe. Veterinarians as employers and employees across Europe have the opportunity to meet on our international job platform vetjobs24.com. From vets only for vets! This is all about jobs, nothing else. No product advertising, no sales of other services, no dependencies. Find your dream job as a vet with vetjobs24!
