

Our client is the Tierklinik Germersheim, a family business with over 30 years of experience, that has now been handed over to the second generation. The new building, built from scratch and only recently opened, is located between Mannheim and Karlsruhe, about 40 km north of the French border.

Veterinary medicine is practised at the highest level in the extraordinary new clinic building: in addition to general practitioners, surgeons and internists, there are experts in dentistry, oral, maxillofacial and facial surgery, ophthalmology and the treatment of ENT diseases.

The latest medical technology in imaging, laboratory diagnostics, 3D printing and anaesthesia round off the team's performance. Seminars and further training courses for veterinarians and veterinary assistants are regularly held in the training wing of the veterinary clinic. In this clinic, technical innovation and veterinary quality are what count.

In order to keep in pace with the rapid medical development and to be able to provide continuous training and further education for all veterinarians, the inclusion of specialized colleagues in the team is favoured.

We are looking for a veterinarian as:

Head of the internal medicine department (m/f/d)

Your responsibilities:

- Working with the approximately 70 employees of the clinic, you will play a central role: on the one hand, you take over the case management for numerous newly arriving patients, on the other hand, you are the responsible contact person for special cases and for the referred patients
- You will strengthen the department of internal medicine, which is already important, and contribute to its ongoing development
- Use all available options for internal and external laboratory and imaging diagnostics
- You take on the internal rounds and ensure that young veterinarians expand their relevant skills
- You support the implementation of seminars and in-house training and work closely with referring colleagues
- You take part in the two-shift system and are available to carry out prevention shifts (on call) of the internal medicine service. Voluntary participation in the general shifts is welcome.

The requirements:

- You have specialized in small animal internal medicine
- Your therapies are based on the latest findings in modern veterinary medicine
- You have a broad range of expertise and see yourself as a case manager
- Preference for Specialists or Diplomate (of the European/American College) - not being a prerequisite
- You enjoy working with other specialists and consider a patient as a whole
- As an expert, you naturally share your knowledge with colleagues inside and outside the clinic

The offer:

We offer you a wide range of tasks in a professionally challenging work environment without night shifts, embedded in a personal and collegial working environment. In the brand new, tasteful clinic building, the spaciousness of the training area is particularly striking.

Extensive professional competence of the colleagues as well as versatile diagnostic possibilities enable demanding veterinary medicine. You will have the opportunity to establish yourself as a pioneer in your field, creating a reputation. Regulated working hours and paid training are guaranteed. Your dog is also welcome!

The rural location of the clinic, between pulsating metropolitan areas, leaves little to be desired in terms of your partner's work, your family's needs and leisure time. France is a stone's throw away and the transport connection is ideal on a national and international level.

For the first contact, Dr. Felix von Hardenberg (DVM) and his team are available on +49 8178 9986410.

Please send your application documents (curriculum vitae, salary expectations and earliest possible starting date) by e-mail to bewerbung@hardenberg-consulting.com, stating the reference number 2180311.

www.hardenberg-consulting.com

www.tierklinik-ger.de

Stellenangebot Tierärztin Tierarzt

Internist Internistin

ECVIM

job offer vet

Postes vacants médecine vétérinaire