

EVILLE & JONES

Eville & Jones is a leader in terms of Official Veterinary Control across Europe, and we are recruiting veterinary graduates for the various vacancies in the numerous UK Top 10 companies we work with.

Our mission is to provide the highest level of audit and inspection services, applying them in the areas of Animal Health, Public Health and Animal Welfare. Therefore, we are looking for future talents in the veterinary field, in order to increase our highly qualified and committed team in the United Kingdom. Eville & Jones specializes in providing Official Veterinary Control Services and Meat Inspection Services to the British Government, namely to the UK Government Food Standard Agency (FSA), providing our workers with international experience and knowledge.

We are proud of the cultural and international diversity of our teams, as we employ professional veterinarians from many countries. For that reason, we remain faithful to this international approach, regardless of the countless challenges we face, such as Brexit.
