

For a mid-size, specialized equine clinic in Northern Germany we are looking for a veterinarian to succeed the

Senior Equine Surgeon (f/m/d)

The colleague will be responsible for general and special equine surgery of orthopaedic and emergency patients. The candidate should like to train and supervise our young and motivated team. She / he should play part in the further development of the clinic with the possibility to set own priorities.

The successful candidate will provide advanced surgical expertise. Independent work is assumed. Board certification ECVS / ACVS in surgery is welcome but not mandatory. You are a team player and used to take on responsibility. Participation in regular emergency duties as background surgeon including nights and weekends are expected.

Requirements for this position are eligibility to practice in Germany. German language skills on the level of B2 are mandatory to get the German approbation.

We offer a high level horse surgery atmosphere and a demanding load of different cases. There is the option of co-partnership. The clinic is embedded in a beautiful landscape, surrounded by cosmopolitan cities, within close reach of family friendly infrastructure, perfect highway connections in all directions and several international train services and airports.

A special and comparatively small horse clinic awaits you, in which, using what you have learned so far, you can take several personal development steps up to management responsibility. The leader as well as the veterinarians and employees on site support you if necessary. Training to become a veterinary specialist ("Fachtierarzt") is made possible. Other colleagues in other practices and clinics are also available for a professional and personal exchange. Here you can develop your own ideas, set standards and turn the clinic into a regional competence center. With an unsparing examination and treatment zone, two operating rooms, laboratory, almost 30 boxes and lunging hall, the clinic offers the ideal basis for implementing your long-term plans.

For more information our consultant Dr. med. vet Hendrik Schwarz and his team are available on +49 8178 9986410. Please send your detailed application documents (curriculum vitae, salary expectations and earliest possible starting date) by email to bewerbung@hardenberg-consulting.com, quoting the reference number 2180111.

www.hardenberg-consulting.com